

SILKY DOGWOOD

Silky Dogwood is a dense multi-stemmed, moderately shade tolerant woody plant. This spreading shrub can attain heights of 10' to 12'. Yellowish-white flowers bloom in mid-June. Abundant clusters of blue fruit ripen in September. Prefers moist soils but does well on a wide variety of soil types. Most often planted for windbreaks and wildlife food / cover.